BiehnCo Group Leverages the Power of Automation to make Expense Process Paperless

"Handling piles of receipts is the biggest challenge with our expense process. SutiExpense has overcome this by automating every procedure so that you need not rely on paper, thus making expense management a paperless process".

- Stephen Azaloff
Chief Financial Officer

A Brief Introduction

Established in 1965, the BiehnCo Group of Family Companies is a machine knife manufacturing company that produces wide-range of products such as Razor blades, Installation tools, Machine knives, Heat treatment services, Wire EDM service, and CNC machining & grinding. The company spans its roots across various industries such as Fiber & Fiberglass, Medicals, Industrial Knives, Metal Processing, and Pelletizing.

BiehnCo Group's mission is to relentlessly serve the customers by catering to all their needs in a timely fashion.

Manual Expense Management is Notorious

Stuck with extremely complex and manual expense process, managing expenses effectively has become a nightmare for BiehnCo. A robust solution that can take the pain out of expense management and automate the entire cycle of reimbursement process is highly required. Checking the reports manually and matching the receipts with the expenses claimed has become a time-consuming task as the accountants spend around 30 hours of their productive time. BiehnCo need to have a great financial control structure so that every process related to expense gets

Replacing Spreadsheets with Automated System

For the first few days, BiehnCo has encountered a few challenges with the automated bank feeds, but very soon they were able to overcome the obstacles. Soon later, the solution has become better and they started using it consistently and uniformly throughout the organization. All the mundane tasks such as matching expenses with the receipts, checking for data redundancy and reconciling are done automatically without much manual intervention. This has saved around 70% of employee productive time and reduced the paperwork by 90%.

In a nutshell, SutiExpense has made the organization to proactively manage spending while gaining more control and visibility over internal processes. More on, the firm has got an estimated cost savings of around $12-15,000, and was able to figure out the fraudulent expense claims.
