About World Wide Logistics Inc.

World Wide Logistics Inc. is a dedicated provider of multimodal transportation solutions operating throughout North America. As a well-established organization, they streamline and organize the transportation of goods for their loyal customers. Their team consists of industry veterans who specialize in the various types of transportation freight. The company has thorough knowledge of the unique regulations and laws associated with each method of transport; from automotive, to dry van, to even refrigerated truck shipments. This allows them to provide a cost-effective service to their clients.

The Problem

Once any business grows, tracking employee time becomes significantly more complex. When a workforce is not being efficiently managed, it can lead to inefficiencies appearing throughout the company. This can lead to significant losses that could have easily been avoided.

The increase in employee strength brought some complications to World Wide Logistics in handling employee attendance, leave requests, time off accruals, and performance related issues. The goal is to have an HR management process as systematic and automated as possible. To achieve this, the organization was looking for an integrated system that ensures all of the time tracking that is being done is accurate and easy to access. They also needed a robust reports management tool to make strategic business decisions.

The Solution – SutiHR

Before SutiHR, the team relied on TimeTrax which was outdated and unproductive. SutiHR made it easy for World Wide Logistics to manage the employee database, clock in/out timings, and time off requests from a single location. The self-service functionality gave their employees the capability to update personal information, complete performance appraisals, and apply for time off. In addition, the system gave them a more efficient way to analyze their data, with customized reports and HR dashboards providing full visibility into their employee data. By selecting SutiHR, the World Wide Logistics team has seen a simplified process of implementation – the cloud-based solution was ready to use once configuration was complete, easy to comprehend, thoroughly tested, and quickly adopted by the company’s employees due to its intuitive self service dashboard.

Benefits of SutiHR:

- Accurate time tracking and work scheduling
- Manage complex work patterns across multiple sites
- Self-service provides easy access to employees to view/edit their profiles
- Real-time reporting on employee data
- Cloud-based solution removes the burden of implementation and upgrades

“We have had demonstrations from different suppliers but SutiSoft really matched our business requirements, offered what we need and it was competitively priced.”
